Barbizza™

Barbeque Pizza Oven

(tailor-made to cook pizzas)[?]

Ever wanted to cook a pizza on a barbeque – now you can – using the fantastic new Barbizza™ Barbeque Pizza Oven. This has got to be the greatest revolutionary development in outdoor and BBQ cooking in the past decade!

- simple to use
- convenient
- quick and efficient
- a healthy way of cooking
- portable (weight 3kg)
- great fun to use
- NZ designed and made

Simply place the Barbizza™ on any barbeque, gas cooker or hob, or similar combustible heat source. Pre-heat for 2 minutes, place your pizza on the tray and cook for approximately 8 minutes. That gives you time to create your next pizza and it's continuous cooking from then on. It's that simple!

There is nothing else like this patented design, the topping will be bubbling and the base will be nice and crisp and it really only takes 8 minutes.

Two years of testing and refinement ensures that the Barbizza™ really does work and it is totally designed and manufactured right here in New Zealand, even down to the bag!

[?] on combustible heat sources such as barbeques, portable gas cookers, household gas hobs, camping equipment which all must be vented from the bottom. NOTE – this device is not designed for use on electric stoves or elements. Some barbeques have a baffle plate above the grill, in some instances this may need to be removed when using the pizza oven.

This brilliant product is crafted entirely of 304 stainless steel. (PCT/NZ2006/000049) (RoHS compliant)

Create an instant party atmosphere anywhere you go with this amazing product. It's so easy to use!

You'll find your guests doing all the work for you – people just love designing their own pizza. And the clean-up is so easy as well.

It's a great way to involve the entire family in creative, healthy eating. It's so convenient, just grab the round red bag and run off to the beach or the backyard. A bit of dough or pre-made bases and a few containers of toppings and you're set for a fantastic eating experience.

Going on a camping trip or family day out – all you need is a simple portable gas stove and this incredible piece of equipment – you'll be amazed at how many healthy, creative pizza varieties you can achieve using the Barbizza™.

We are confident you will find the Barbizza™ Barbeque Pizza Oven a hit with everyone.

Happy, healthy eating!
